Mini MBA: Quality Performance Leadership

Advanced High-Performance Leadership

Training Course Overview

The rarest & most precious commodity in the world today is not diamonds, gold or oil.

Its Good Leadership.

Managers are in abundance, leaders are plentiful. But Good leaders are incredibly rare. Like rare diamonds they take time to develop & for many years they can be hidden from sight as they develop and increase their value.

For those serious about bringing out the value in their leadership this course will be an adventure you will never forget, you may have done 5,10,20,30 courses on leadership or management before but still feel you are not leading as well as you could? Well this training course is for you. Leadership is a journey of discovering our hidden strengths, overcoming our weaknesses, stretching and challenging out thinking, developing our ability to persevere when others give up.

An unconventional style of training that throws away the power-point and gets personal. That is not interested in your past but focused on your future. That doesn't tell you what you want to hear but tells you what you need to hear. That challenges your assumptions, that is refreshingly honest. That talks "real world" instead of theory & that will impact you in a deep and lasting way.

If you are ready for your next Leadership Challenge this 10 days is where your journey begins.
